

Contents

Figures	xiii
Foreword, by Barbara Quint	xvii
Acknowledgments	xxi
How to Use This How-To Book	xxiii
Introduction
Punctuated Equilibrium: The Web Rocks Our World	1
Part 1: Ready Reference on the Web: Resources for Patrons	7
Chapter 1—Searching and Meta-Searching the Internet	9
Meta-Search Sites	11
Deep Web Search Engines	14
Browser Searchbots for the Desktop	16
Keeping Up with the Engines	16
Searching Rule of Thumb	18
Chapter 2—Using the Web to Find People	21
Free Telephone and Address Directories	23
E-Mail Search	25
Finding Family	26
Public Records	29
Background Checks that Cost Money	29
Finding the Famous	31
Who's Behind That Web Page	33
Protecting Your Privacy	34
Come Out, Come Out, Wherever You Are!	35
Chapter 3—News on the Net	37
Web News Meta-Resources	38
Breaking News	40
Online Newspapers and Archives	41

News Magazines	44	Other Medical Resources	118
Streaming News	45	Cancer: What Is It Good For?	120
News Search Engines	46	Clinical Trials	123
News Evaluation	47	Quack Attack	124
Choose Your News	48	A Long Struggle	126
All the News That Fits the Web	49
Chapter 4—Quality Reference Resources on the Web	51	Chapter 8—Minding Your Money on the Web	127
Single Subject Portals	56	Meta-Sites	128
Guides Aplenty	64	Stock Quotes	132
Chapter 5—Internet Sites for Kids	65	Mutual Funds	133
Homework Help on the Web	69	Bonds	134
Child's Play	79	Company Information	134
Search Engines for Kids	83	“How-To” Sites	137
Protecting Kids	84	Free vs. Fee	138
From Soccer Mom to Super Internet Librarian Mom	86
Chapter 6—Free Full-Text Resources	87	Chapter 9—Let's Go Cyber-Shopping	141
The Great Books Movement and the Internet	87	Consumer Advice	141
Handmade or Book Trade?	89	Bot Bought	142
Directories of Literary Electronic Text Archives	89	Hunter or Gatherer?	144
Online Collections of Literary Electronic Text	90	Specialty Bots	147
Individual Authors	95	Service Bots	148
Poetry	96	Brick-and-Mortar or Combination Bots	149
Concordances	97	E-Coupons	150
Literature in Languages Other than English	99	Evaluation	151
Contemporary Nonfiction	100	More Information About Bots	152
History and Law	101	The Next Step?	153
Full-Text Articles on the Open Web	104
Full Up to Here with Full-Text Online?	107	Part 2: The Librarian as Information Technician: Working with the Medium and the Machines	155
Chapter 7—Health and Medical Information Online	109	Chapter 10—Managing Web-Based E-Mail	157
General Medical Information	111	I Want My E-Mail	159
More General Consumer Health Resources	114	Free E-Mail Directories	161
Disease Directories	115	Quality Free E-Mail	162
In-Depth Resources and Literature	117	Choosing a Screen Name	164
		Attach This	166
		Spam Management	167
		Other E-Mail Advice	168

What About Chat?	170
Mr. Post Ma-a-an	171
Chapter 11—Tips for Teaching the Internet	173
The “Beginner Mind”	174
Active Learning	175
The Part Where You Talk	175
The Part Where They Work	178
A More Formal Route	180
Educational Resources	180
Glossaries	183
Those Who Can, Do ... and Teach, Too	184
Chapter 12—Making and Maintaining Do-It-Yourself Web Pages	185
A Different Approach	187
What Is HTML, Exactly?	187
HTML Reference	189
HTML Editors	190
Color Pickers	191
Image Editors	192
Free Fonts	194
File Transfer Programs	195
Testers and Fixers	196
Give Me More!	197
Unix for Librarians	199
Si, Se Puede!	201
Chapter 13—Making the Web Accessible to the Disabled	203
Types of Disabilities	204
Inclusive Web Design	205
Tools and Utilities	208
Why Should We Do It?	210
More Assistive Technologies	212
Where to Buy	214
Making Electronic Resources Accessible in the Library ..	214
Temporarily Abled?	215
Chapter 14—Computer Troubleshooting for Librarians	217
Troubleshooting Tip One: Reboot	218
Tip Two: Defrost Without Tears	219
Performance Tip Three: Clear That Cache and Crush Those Cookies	220
Tip Four: Scandisk and Defrag	224
Tip Five: Keep It Clean	225
Where to Find More Help	226
Information Professional or Free Support Desk?	228
Now You Know Everything	229
Chapter 15—Keeping Up with Changes on the Web	231
New Site Locators	232
New Hardware and Software	234
Computer and Business News	235
Subject-Specific Web Resources	238
Web Site Change Monitors	240
Print Resources	241
Reading the Obituaries	242
Keeping Up—with Your Mail!	243
Afterword
The Constant Is Change	245
About the Author	247
Index	249