Grant Support

Grantmaking organizations in the U.S. and Canada offer billions of dollars in nonrefundable funding, and the Annual Register of Grant Support™ 2014 provides detailed information on grants and programs available to individuals and organizations seeking the following: scholarship support to obtain an undergraduate or graduate degree; internships to those entering the initial stage of professional experience; residencies to develop professional skills; fellowships for those wanting to advance their careers.

Organizations offering support can be located based on their subject matter (the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the American Medical Association Foundation), ethnic and special population groups (Korean American Scholarship Foundation, Women's Education and Research Institute), geographic location (Massachusetts Office of Student Financial Assistance, Missouri Department of Higher Education), or a combination of categories (North Dakota State Board for Indian Scholarships, Chinese American Medical Society).

PROPOSAL-WRITING TIPS

You'll also find expert proposal-writing guidelines and examples to help even first-time applicants prepare program plans and grant proposals that will yield professional results.

From small contributions for local civic groups to million-dollar school construction grants, the funding programs found in the Annual Register of Grant Support™ 2014 will help millions of recipients realize their goals.

Tap into

Everything you need to know about each grant program

The Annual Register of Grant Support™ 2014 answers all the vital questions about each grant program and the support it provides, including the following:

- Who gives it? You'll find background information on every organization, including founding date, address, publications, key personnel, and a description of its key areas of interest.
- Who gets it? Profiles define what types of projects are typically funded, qualification requirements, geographical limitations, and other contingencies that may affect eligibility.
- What is given? Details include total grant budget, monetary size of typical grants, number of grants awarded annually, and representative awards from previous years.
- What is the duration? You'll discover the length of grants (one-time, annual, multiyear) as well as renewal information if applicable.
- How does one apply? Listings outline application procedures, deadlines, contacts, and any other application materials or information.

Grant programs are arranged by topic and cross-referenced by subject area—with 61 specific subcategories. Each listing includes information on eligibility requirements and restrictions, application procedures and deadlines, grant size or range, and contact information.
