Fulltext Sources Online

"I think Fulltext Sources Online is a great product. It's easy to use and allows you to quickly determine which electronic databases provide full-text access to various journals and magazines. My library staff and I use the product all of the time to quickly locate articles for our attorneys. I highly recommend FSO to other law firm librarians"

Fulltext Sources Online...

a Directory of Periodicals

"I've found FSO to be very useful and have subscribed for eons. It helps me to identify which aggregator carries a particular source. FSO has been especially helpful to me for this purpose over the years. I currently subscribe to both the online and print edition"

—Amelia Kassel, President, MarketingBase

Fulltext Sources Online (FSO) is a directory of periodicals accessible online in full text through 30 aggregators and their products. Published biannually in January and July, FSO lists more than 42,000 newspapers, journals, magazines, newsletters, news wires, and transcripts. Each issue is complete and replaces previous issues.

Each entry lists the aggregators and databases that provide the title online in full text. Coverage dates, frequencies, and lag times of titles appearing online are included, as well as ISSNs, publishers' websites, and document types. Free archives, selected coverage, and open access journals are indicated. Subject, geographic, and language indexes are also provided.
