

Contents

Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction	xvii
PART 1: THE BASICS—GETTING OFF TO A GOOD START
CHAPTER 1
Start at the Beginning—Your Job Responsibilities and How to Accomplish Them	3
Rebecca Miller with Nancy Sosna Bohm
Working with Others—You’re Not Alone	4
Managing Your Job Duties—A Time for Everything	7
Fulfilling Your Job Role—Serving Up Information	10
You Do Make a Difference	12
CHAPTER 2
Building Strong Collaborative Relationships with Disciplinary Faculty	13
Elizabeth O. Hutchins
Cross-Cultural Understandings ... and Misunderstandings	13
We Too Have Disciplinary Expertise!	16
Strategic Opportunities and Challenges	20
Conclusion	27
CHAPTER 3
Building the Profession—Research, Creative Activities, and Publication by Academic Librarians	31
Joan Beam and Cathy Cranston
Publication	32
Getting Started	35
Writing a Book	37
Librarians’ Experiences	40

CHAPTER 4

Time Served Is Time Well Spent—Making the Most of Your Service Commitments 43

Michelle Mach

Why Do Service? 44

Types of Service Activities 44

Campus Service 45

Professional Service 47

Community Service 48

Decisions, Decisions 49

 Sidebar: Questions to Ask about Service 51

Getting Started 52

Evaluation of Service Activities 53

 Sidebar: Possible Inclusions in Service Dossier 54

Conclusion 55

CHAPTER 5

Faculty Status, Promotion, and Tenure—What Are You Getting Into? 57

Gwen Meyer Gregory and Mary Beth Chambers

Benefits 59

Drawbacks 62

The Future of Faculty Status 63

The Best Status for You 64

PART 2: THINGS TO THINK ABOUT—GETTING AND KEEPING A GREAT JOB

CHAPTER 6

“Come on Down! You’re the Next Contestant”—One Librarian’s View of the Interview Process 69

Karl Bridges

First Things First: Finding the Right Opening 69

The Vita: Organization, Organization, Organization 70

References 72

When Things Are Bad: If You Were Fired or Turned Down for Tenure 73

Interviewing with Special Circumstances 74

The On-Campus Interview 75

When Good Interviews Go Bad 78

After the Interview 79

Handling Rejection: It’s Not You. Really. 80

“Come on Down,” Or, You Got the Job 81

CHAPTER 7

Mentors—How To Find Them, How To Use Them 83

Verla J. Peterson

Why Have a Mentor? 83

Getting Your Mentor 85

Developing a Relationship with Your Mentor 88

CHAPTER 8

Continuing Education—Planning Your Future 93

Kris Swank

You Will Need Continuing Education 94

Make a Plan 97

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Skill Gaps 97

Find Opportunities 98

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Program Preferences 101

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Information
 Resources 102

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Skill Sets 103

Make It Happen 103

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Institution’s
 Policies 106

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Financial Resources 107

 Sidebar: Continuing Education Plan: Your Folder 108

Carpe Diem 108

CHAPTER 9

Unions in Academic Libraries 111

Tina Maragou Hovekamp

Development of Faculty and Academic Library Unions	113
Reasons to Unionize	115
Union Structure and the Bargaining Process	116
The “Collective” Outcomes of Unionization	119
Conclusion	122

CHAPTER 10

What Have You Been Up To?—Documenting Your Career 125

McKinley Sielaff

Preliminary Questions and the Timeframe	126
Sidebar: Areas for Evaluation of Tenure	128
Sidebar: Documentation Outcomes of Each Dossier Section	129
Teaching	129
Scholarship	131
Service	132
Other Professional Activity	133
Sidebar: Documented Outcomes	134
Getting It Together	136
Previews and Run-Throughs	137
Sidebar: Tips for the Tenure/Evaluation Process	138
Conclusion	138

CHAPTER 11

Up North—Comparisons and Contrasts of U.S. and Canadian Academic Libraries 141

Don Taylor

The Canadian University System	141
The Canadian University Library	143
Becoming a Librarian in Canada	144
The Job Market for Academic Librarians in Canada	145
Canadian Copyright	149
Collection Development and Collection Management Issues	151

Professional Organizations 153

PART 3: TALES FROM THE TRENCHES—ACADEMIC LIBRARIANS SHARE THEIR STORIES

CHAPTER 12

Notes From a Cataloger—Success in Technical Services 157

Wendy Baia

Defining Success in Academic Librarianship 158
 Challenges of Communication in a Hierarchical Institution 161
 Cooperation to Save the Time of the User 163
 Supervision 164
 Library Leadership and Change 165
 Stress and the Library 166
 Conclusion 168

CHAPTER 13

Witches Brew or Gourmet Gumbo—Tenure in the Library 171

Molly E. Molloy

Prologue 171
 It Should Always Taste Good, Even Though It Might Not
 Look Like the Picture in the Magazine 172
 Priorities Are Made to Be Straight, Not Crooked 172
 Who Let Those Creatures Out of the Box? Or, How Did
 Those Ideas Get Into My Head? 174
 Enforced Mediocrity 175
 It’s Not What You Say But 176
 A “Strange Little Town” 177
 Gourmet Recipes or Not, You Gotta Eat 178

CHAPTER 14

Moving to the Academy in Mid-Career—A Field Guide for the Experienced Librarian 183

Anna Gold

Mutual Attraction 184
 “... and Members of the Academy”—What You (Don’t)
 Know about Academic Culture 185

xii The Successful Academic Librarian

“The Center of the University”—The Academic Library as Cathedral	186
What to Expect They’re Expecting: Interviewing for the Mid-Career Move	190
The Heart of the Academy: Learning	195

CHAPTER 15

A View From the Top—What the Director or Dean

Is Looking For	199
---------------------------------	------------

Benjamin Wakashige and Emily Asch

Personal Characteristics	200
Professional Qualities	201
Service, Research, and Teaching	204

Afterword	207
----------------------------	------------

Annotated Bibliography	209
-----------------------------------------	------------

About the Contributors	215
-----------------------------------------	------------

About the Editor	219
-----------------------------------	------------

Index	221
------------------------	------------